Don't Teach Children to Fear Police

One of the mistakes foolish parents make is to frighten small children by threatening to call the police, when the real training should be to have a child go to the police when in trouble. In over forty years intimate acquaintance with police officers, we have met but few who were not glad and happy to have children speak to them, and refer their little troubles to the big blue coats. The majority of the men in the department are fathers of families, and we know one who boasts thirteen children and every boy and girl living in his block is proud to have him speak to them. A child should be taught to tell their name and residence, and if they have it, their telephone number, and while the child may wander away and become lost, it is only temporary, as the first police officer will report the lost one at the station, and take it home. While some officers are a bit gruff in their way, it is only when dealing with an element who understand no other language, but when talking to a child they will be found kind and courteous, and possibly reminded of their own little ones at home, will be only too anxious to render whatever assistance is in their power. Remember the policeman is human, and most likely a father, and do not have your child educated in any other way.

Auto Drivers Not Always to Blame

It is the popular idea to blame every accident that happens in which an automobile figures, upon the driver of the auto. The carelessness of pedestrians contributes as much as the careless auto driver. Allowing children to play on the street, and many consider it "real sport," to race back and forth across a street just in front of traffic, the greatest glee being the occasion when they can compel an auto to run into the sidewalk or another auto, then they scamper away and the driver is laughed at. There is not a driver of any experience that has not had cases of this kind occur. Other "jay walkers" will try to cross the street ahead of approaching cars not understanding that it takes from twenty to forty feet to stop a car, especially on a wet street, and the driver must keep up with those following, or be collided with in the rear. We are not defending the speeding or reckless driver, and unfortunately there are many of them, but every driver, who meets with an accident is not necessarily speeding or reckless. A duty to use care, falls on the pedestrian, as well as the driver, although some seem to think it is all on the driver. Police records show that nearly all accidents to children is due to their playing on the driveways, or recklessly running across the streets in play.

Rough Sidewalks on 63rd Street

From Wentworth ave. to Halsted st., and on both sides of the street, there is scarcely one store front, that has an even walk. Many are cracked, broken and uneven, have different heights with obstructions rising to trip and throw the pedestrians, and in wet weather there are a series of pools and lakelets that compel high water rubbers to navigate with comfort. If the city has a sidewalk inspector, he or his men, have overlooked Englewood completely, or enjoys a "Rocky road to Dublin" walk. While the weather was bad, there was some excuse for allowing this condition, but there is surely none now, and it is up to the proper authorities to have the sidewalks repaired or rebuilt at once.

Great Minds Must Run in the Same Channels

No sooner had the Times advocated a "sugar strike" in our last issue, than Mayor Hylan of New York City and the welfare organizations of California, urged the same means to stop the profiteering campaigns of the sugar trust. It is the only way to stop it, and if everyone will curtail their use of sugar to as small an amount as possible, it will save the people over $3,000,000 a week. Now is the time to act.

G. A. R. Wants Automobiles for Decoration Day

Mead Post, G. A. R., asks Englewood owners of automobiles to volunteer the use of enough cars to transport the different delegations of old soldiers to the cemeteries, in the district. The cars will be needed from about nine o'clock until noon Memorial day, Wednesday, May 30th. Those who will volunteer the use of their cars will please report to Walter Sargeant, 422 62nd st.

Mrs. Leonard and son, Charles, of 6409 Yale ave., spent the week-end with friends at Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. Almira Hall, widow of the late Willis Hall, and mother of Mrs. Hattie Goodall and W. W. Hall of Youngstown, O., died at her home, 6402 Yale ave., Monday, and her funeral occured Wednesday; burial at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Dilapidated Fire Traps Should Be Wrecked

Parts of Englewood, and even populous 63rd st. is disfigured and endangered by old frame buildings that, through neglect, have become really dangerous to the neighborhood, as well as big fire hazards to the surrounding property. Many of them are vacant, and have been for months, and even years, yet the owners allow them to stand, until they disintegrate piece meal. The interiors of many of them have been carried off for kindling wood, and others house undesirable people, and the neighborhood is injured by having such unsightly shacks in sight. The fire danger is large, on account of the people, who assemble in some of them, and even small boys resort to them for a forbidden cigarette smoke. All such buildings should be reported to the Commissioner of buildings, at the City hall, or to the alderman of the ward, as the danger of a conflagration in an otherwise prosperous locality menaces our town.

To Open Michigan Ave. Through

The city council will soon be asked to take action to have Michigan ave. opened through from 63rd st., south, to Marquette rd., thus making it an open through street from the city limits to the Northside. To do this, it will be necessary to build either a subway under the New York central and Pennsylvania lines, or to build a viaduct over the elevated tracks, probably the last would be the less cost, but the subway would be preferable, as it would be on one grade. All of the aldermen in this part of the city, should join in the work with Alderman Charles S. Laton, who has the matter in charge, as we need more through streets, north and south.

Mrs. H. A. King, 306 66th st., and Mrs. H. J. Morris, 7157 Yale ave., attended the American War Mother's State convention at Aurora, Ill., April 26th and 27th.

Send a Dollar to the Boy Scouts

The best investment anyone can make is to invest one dollar in maintenance of the Boy Scouts in this southwest district of the city. We have kept in close touch with the boys ever since organized, and we know of a great deal of good they have accomplished. It is an absolutely non-sectarian organization, yet has a moral pull that reaches every boy that joins it. Send your cheerful dollar to either W. G. Tegtmeier, at 6335 Halsted st., or Walter W. Morris, 6659 Halsted st., as they have taken the task of canvassing for Englewood.

Ellsworth Tent, T. of V., Meet

The regular meeting of Mrs. Ellsworth Tent No. 5, Daughters of Veterans, was held Friday evening, April 27th, at G. A. R. hall. James, Mrs. Minnie Berlin, and Mrs. Bessie Wright.

The members voted to join the Chicago Drill team, meeting at the Westside armory, under command of Lieut. Emma Cadieux, and drill for the annual Memorial Day parade, in conjunction with the Grand Army of the Republic. All members will report weekly on Wednesday evening, at the Westside armory for practice.

It was decided to hold a card and bunco party, at G. A. R. hall, 6236 Princeton ave., on Friday evening, May 11th. Mrs. Maude F. Sterling is chairman, and the public is invited. Ogden Park Library

When you want a good book, go to your public library! Where is it? In the south end of the Ogden Park Field house, 65th st. and Racine ave. When is it open? Every day except Sunday and legal holidays, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. What has it for you? Books to read at home for pleasure or profit, information on any subject, novels, new and old, stories of travel, adventure, nature or history. Latest magazines. All free!

Among the new books the Ogden Park library offers you, are: Bechdolt, "When the West Was Young"; Bramah, "Kai Lung's Golden Hours"; Haggard, "Wisdom's Daughter," this being the mystery of the beginnings of the famous "She" and "Ayesha" is cleared up in a final splendid tale; MacGregor, "The Bells of St. Stephen's"; Kelland, "Contraband," in which a woman newspaper owner outwits bootleggers and crooked politicians; Lincoln, "The Meredith Mystery." In the witching hours a blind man stumbles over the dead body of his host; how he clears the name of the victim's niece whom he loves is well worth reading. McIntyre, "Blowing Weather," an old fashioned adventure in early Philadelphia, which really does kick the heart into occasional turbulent beating; Mitchell, "Corduroy," is the story of a hidebound New Englander and a real cowgirl, engaged in a clash of temperaments, to the reader's satisfaction; Terhune, "The Pest"; Train, "His Children's Children," this being one of the best books of the year. "The house had been founded by Peter B., who began his career after the Civil war carrying a pick and dinner pail, and what, with gold mining and railroad grabbing in good old pirate fashion, retired from affairs as one of New York's leading financiers. In contrast to him, his son, Rufus, was a gentleman. He is introduced to the reader as the president of the Utopia Trust company installed with his family in a house of vulgar grandeur, on Fifth avenue, built by Peter B. The story follows the fortunes of this family, giving at the same time a cross-section of post-war high society, which, having outgrown its brownstone Victorianism, is giddily and recklessly reaching out for new standards, and especially in the case of women skirting perilously near to the edge of a precipice. To Rufus Kayne and his family of daughters financial ruin proves a blessing in disguise, and the voice of the auctioneer in the hall of the grand house, while it is Peter B.'s deathknell, rings in a new era for the younger generation." This is an excellently sustained novel, consistent story telling and carries its message effectively, the narrative does not stand still or even drag. Gale, "Faint Perfume," being another by the author of "Miss Lulu Bett," and one of the best books; Langner, "Five One-act plays"; Weaver, In American, "The Finders"; Maynard, "Our Best Poets"; Langdon, "Just for Two," an up-to-date cook book; Knight, "Qualities Related to Success in Teaching"; Dodd, "The Girl Next Door," being a love story, safe for all unmarried daughters and worth while for all, who enjoy style; Day, "Joan of Arc of the North Woods"; Machen, "Things Near and Far"; Carlyle, "Essay on Burns"; Belloc, "On"; Knowles, "Golden Treasury of American Songs and Lyrics"; Geister, "Let's Play"; Caffin, "Story of American Painting, How to Study Pictures"; Hill, "Cooking for Two"; Fuller, "Up-to-date Sandwich Book"; Lowell, "Public Opinion in War and Peace"; Winbigler, "Self-healing Through Autosuggestion." MOTHERS' DAY MAY 13

The One Day of the Year That All the World May Reverently Celebrate

The only persons we have ever read of who could not celebrate "Mothers' Day" was Adam and Eve, and doubtless they could claim Mother Earth, but all mortals since their time have had a being that stood to them just a mite below the Deity, and that was, and is their Mother. Savage or civilized, the same reverence is yielded to that dear being who brought us into existence, and the soul of man reveres the holy name of "Mother." Songs have been sung; volumes have been written on "Mother," yet not half has been told of her virtues and her values. It is most fitting that we should set aside one day of the year to do her reverence. To many of us it can be but a memory, saddened by her loss, but our thoughts of her will make the day better and awaken the best thoughts within us, and such thoughts are a prayer.

No matter how far we may be separated, that tie still exists that binds us to her. No matter how high we may soar in fame, power or wealth, we still admit of one greater being, and that is "Mother." Or even should we sink to the lowest depths, the one right ray of hope is the memory of our "Mother," and God bless her wherever she may be. On this day we should show some appreciation of her, or her memory. If she has gone to her reward, let us try to do something good as she would want us to do, and if she is still with us, let her know we appreciate her love and faith in us by some happy reminder, even though it be but a flower.

Appropriate cards and booklets are printed and many a mother's heart will be gladdened by the receipt of one; but dear by far will be the kindly letter in which we pour out our souls, as in our childhood, to that dear old soul who lives only for us. No matter how busy you may be, think of how often she was more than "busy" for you; though miles may separate you, her soul is as close to you right now as when a helpless infant she fondled you on her knee. Remember this one day, and keep it holy as the day prescribed in holy writ, and as the day dedicated to that dearest and best of all creatures—your mother.

The Fanny May Candy company will open a branch store, at 725 63rd st., making their fourteenth store in the city. They leased the Englewood location of Irving Isador, for two years, for $4,500. The store is to be remodeled and handsomely equipped.

This Week at the Empress

You will like "Hello Englewood" this week at the Empress. It's a piece of audity in two acts and seven scenes. The singing rendered by Miss Olive Christian is very good. The male quartet by Messrs. Girard, Berry, McIntyre and Thompson, met with universal approval by the audience. Miss Florence Tanner as usual did her singing splendidly.

The opening presentation by Mr. Girard is unique. The comedy is extra good. In fact the show in general is above the average, and Mr. Whitehead deserves praise for his splendid work in assembling a theatrical company that is 100 per cent in general.

At the Harvard Theatre

Double feature program, Friday and Saturday, May 4th and 5th, matinee and night. Marshall Neilan's latest production, "Minnie." Absolutely the most human picture Neilan has ever made. See it with chuckle, choke, cheer. With an all star cast including Leatrice Joy and Matt Moore. Men laughed at her. Girls taunted here. And the only man she could get was a dead crook. And she took him because her heart was too full to bear any more pain. You'll laugh with Minnie, cry with Minnie, the girl who had to write herself love letters, because no one else would, and then had to live her romance to the bitter end.

Sunday and Monday, May 6th and 7th. Theodore Roberts made a great sacrifice to art when he made up for his featured role in "Grumpy," William de Mille's Paramount production. The sacrifice consisted in shaving off most of his eyebrows.

In the title role of "Grumpy," Mr. Roberts is a character of eighty-five years, irascible, but lovable. In order to make up for the role, he shaved his famous mustache and put aside his equally well known cigar; then, to make the character still more realistic, he shaved off about half of each eyebrow. The result is an entirely new character to the screen, though not so new that audiences will fail to recognize the lovable old player Mr. Roberts has always been, and still is.

Tuesday and Wednesday, May 8th and 9th. Harold Lloyd in his latest Pathe picture comedy, "Dr. Jack." The showing of the Harold Lloyd comedy was in the White House itself, and for an hour the President forgot the momentous cares of his office and almost rolled out of his chair with hilarious laughter. He came out of the show saying he felt more refreshed than he had for three weeks.

The President expressed amazement at the resourcefulness of the young comedian in inventing so many new "stunts" and in his ability to provoke such continuous laughter for a solid hour.

Thursday, May 10th. H. C. Witwer, who wrote "The Fourth Musketeer," is one of the most prolific writers of short stories among American literati. He achieved fame with a series of syndicated baseball stories later issued in book form, "From Baseball to Boches," in which he drew on his experiences as war correspondent and baseball scribe to create popular fiction material. In the "Ed Harmon" series of letters in The Saturday Evening Post, chatty chronicles of sport circles, he developed a hero whose exploits brought resounding laughter from the sporting fraternity in particular and the great American family in general. "Alex the Great" lifted him out of the classification of a writer on sport topics solely. Magazines have printed his yarns to the number of 150. His general style recalls that of the late beloved Charles E. Van Loan, whose tales of sporting life and moviedom gave him lasting fame.

$25,000 Pipe Organ for Harvard Theatre

The Harvard theater has recently purchased a $25,000 pipe organ, which is being installed and within a few weeks it will be ready to render music equal to any theater on the Southside. It is an addition to the "Harvard," that will be appreciated by its many patrons.

Ford Grant of 448 62nd st., has left for New Brunswick, where he will accept a position with his father.

Mrs. J. A. Stephens, 6745 Perry ave., is rapidly recovering from an appendicitis operation she underwent recently.

Miss Mildred Hernly, 6605 Stewart ave., is recovering from an adenoid and tonsil operation, in the Englewood hospital.

Rev. George R. Stair, formerly of the Englewood Baptist church is preaching at Springvale, Maine, a town in which his family are located for the summer.

Regular meeting of Martha Ammen Tent No. 20, Daughters of Veterans, will be held Wednesday, April 9th, at G. A. R. hall. Election of delegates to department convention week of June 18th. All members are requested to be present.

The Englewood W. C. T. U. will meet in the parlors of the Englewood Baptist church, Monday, May 7th, at half past two. Reports of superintendents and committees will be followed by an interesting program. All ladies are invited to attend all meetings of the Union.

Luck and Lack

Message to Seekers of Success

Don't trust to luck. Luck is untrustworthy. Systematic, scientific striving for any goal is far more likely to bring you success than any mere faith in your success.

Just as changing a single letter changes "Luck" to "Lack," so will the reverses of a single day change plenty to want. But you can insure yourself against this by building your success on the habit of saving.

Save and Win

Be well dressed. Make friends. Increase your influence in your community. Enjoy the respect of all your associates.

These things do not come to those who trust to luck for them. Systematic saving will win them for you. Systematic saving will accumulate for you a small fortune that can safely and readily be expanded to a large one.

The next regular meeting of the Thomas Davis council, will be held on Tuesday evening, May 8th, in Visitation hall 51th pl. and S. Peoria st. New Business Block on 63rd Street

Messrs Cohen, Berkson and Caromos began work Monday, on the construction of a very nice three-story business block, at 645 to 653 W. 63rd st., on the ruins of the building destroyed by fire early in the year, and formerly known as the "Hoo Doo block," at the corner of Union ave. The Seymour Construction company, are doing the work, and the plans show a very nice building with five stores, and modern apartments in the two upper floors. This will be a great improvement, and all that is necessary to fill up the vacant space from this to Wallace st., would be the opening of Union ave.

The Imperial Moves

Increasing business requires that we secure larger and better equipped rooms and this week we give up our old location at 6134 Halsted st., and move to 6512, the same street, where we have larger and better rooms and a better opportunity of showing our patrons our goods. We carry an extra fine line of ready-to-wear clothing for men, women and children, and sell on easy payment. We invite the people of Englewood to call and examine our fine up-to-the-minute stock. We are open evenings, Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Birthday Surprise

A pleasant birthday surprise was tendered Mr. John Homebrook, on April 28th, being planned by Mrs. Homebrook. Those present were Mr. Homebrook's sisters and old friends from Jefferson Park Presbyterian church. It was a complete surprise to John, and he was made happy by several nice gifts.

Resolute A. C. to Open Season

The Resolute A. C. will usher in the 1923 baseball season next Sunday, May 6th, when they clash with their ancient rivals, the Auburn Eagles. The Resolute diamond, at 89th st. and Elizabeth ave., will be the scene of the fray.

The Brainerd lads have been working hard for the past two weeks, whipping their team into shape, and they are now on edge, and "raring to go." The Resolutes will display a well balanced team in all departments of the game. Jimmy Loftus, the peerless first sacker will in all probability patrol the initial station, while his brother John, will cavort around second. Schulty and Gallagher are still fighting for the shortstop berth, while Tulp will be left unmolested at third base. The outfield is thick with possibilities. Feeney, the slugging red-head, and Maloney, are the headliners with John Watson, Skerrett Robson and Roy Watson, making it more complicated. Maloney will have to take care of the receiving end until Burns, who is Ray Schalkmg for Morgan Park high school, will be available for service. The team will be well fortified with flingers with Curtis, Gregory and Hoeppner in the foreground and John Loftus and Tulp to fill in, if necessary.

The Resolute schedule is still in the process of formation and teams wanting games, phone Stewart 9272, between 6:30 and 7 p. m. and ask for Fred.

Englewood Post No. 61, American Legion

Second open house will be held on Friday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, May 4th, at the G. A. R. hall, 6236 Princeton ave. The entertainment features will be given under the direction of the Englewood Woman's club, and some of the best talent is practically assured for this occasion. This will be a joint meeting of the post and the ladies' auxiliary and there will be no business session. No service man should miss this excellent program and the doors are wide open to all buddies on this evening. Judge Frank P. Sadler will be the orator of the occasion. Everyone cordially invited. Come early.

Miss Parker, a Near East Relief worker, spoke at the Normal Park M. E. church on Sunday morning at the Woman's Missionary thank offering service. Next Thursday evening at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Standard Bearers, Miss Parker will speak and show many beautiful pictures which she took in India. A silver offering will be taken.

APOLOGIZING

For the greatest Opening ever held in Englewood

It is with a great amount of regret that we apologize to the 8,000 people of Englewood who responded to our Opening Announcements.

The tremendous demand for our advertised Chocolates was entirely unforeseen and although we prepared 4000 boxes, we sold out by 1 p. m. and were unable to make more, our entire organization being called to give as good service at our tables as was possible under such extraordinary conditions.

We want the people of Englewood to know that we truly appreciate their liberal patronage and will endeavor in the future, through this experience, to give the kind of service expected in a shop of such remarkable beauty. The only one of its kind in Chicago.

"Boys' Week" in Chicago

A loyalty parade representing every boys' organization in Chicago and Cook County will open the week of May 18th to 24th, which has been selected as the third annual demonstration of boys' activities in school, church, industry and play hours. The following day, May 19th, will be devoted to athletics; Sunday, May 20th, will be "Boys' Day in Church," when special services will be held in every Protestant and Roman Catholic church and Jewish synagogue. May 21st will be dedicated to "Boys' Day in School and Thrift," when parents will be invited to accompany their boys to school and get acquainted with the teachers and the boys will be told how much better it is for them to remain in school than to go into industry while they are still uneducated and unprepared. On "Boys' Day in Safety and Industry," May 22nd, the boys will be taken on tours of inspection through factories and plants and the employers will give talks to the boys, bringing about a closer relationship between the boy and the "boss." May 23rd, "Boys' Day in Health," will be given over entirely to the interest of boys in health, and speakers in every school will give talks on how to keep well and avoid accidents. May 24th will be "Boys' Day with Dad," when Father will be expected to "pal" with his boy.

There will be no funds solicited, boys' week being purely and solely a campaign to interest everyone in the boys, and to interest the boys in themselves, feeling that the boys of today are the citizens of tomorrow. Public officials, merchants, captains of industry, all boys' organizations, the juvenile court, the Union League club, churches and the schools are co-operating to make "Boys' Week" a greater success this year than ever. Sponsoring the entire movement is the Rotary club, with Dr. Milton H. Mack as general chairman and Mr. Alex C. Johnson, vice-president of the Chicago & Northwestern R. R., as acting chairman. The special Boys' Week committee is under the direct supervision of Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics, Intercollegiate Conference, as chairman, and Major Frank L. Beals, supervisor of physical education, Chicago high schools, as executive secretary.

Mayor William E. Dever is honorary chairman and the honorary vice-chairmen are: Judge Victor P. Arnold, Edward I. Cudahy, Charles W. Folds, Paul Westburg and Angus S. Hibbard.

The headquarters of the Boys' Week committee are located in the McClurg building.

Playlet by Englewood Woman

The Englewood Woman's club, among its attractive programs the past year, gave a playlet written by one of its members, Mrs. Ada Fisher of 7206 Princeton ave. "Everyone to Her Own Way," was the title, and this play has been copyrighted. April 23rd, this play was given before a large audience at Pilgrim Congregational church. It was most witty and very entertaining. The characters were taken by well known Englewood women. Pilgrim church is most grateful to them for a very profitable and delightful evening.

W. R. C. Card and Bunco Party

There will be a card and bunco party given on Friday evening, May 10th, by Geo. G. Meade Woman's Relief corps, at the G. A. R. hall, 6238 Princeton ave.

ANNOUNCEMENT

of Interest to

MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I will build a car for the multitude"

Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today? Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you to get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

Jay-Eye-See Sport

Completely Equipped Case Sport Car

In designing the Jay-Eye-See, there has been no wholesale departure from the conventional, but rather a careful selection of equipment and arrangement arrived at to give just that degree of smartness and snap desirable in a sport car. Grace of line, lowness of cushion and top, the artful position and design of trunk and spare tire carriage, harmonize so perfectly that were the body custom built, there could scarcely be more effective unity and pleasing individuality obtained.

The trunk carriage and body guard rails of polished aluminum are beautifully designed, forming an ornamental, as well as thoroughly practical appointment. There is a trunk, 40 inches by 12 inches—15 inches deep—covered with bright finish fabrikoid. A snugly fitting cover protects trunk and contents from dust and water. Two spare tires—front and rear bumpers—adjustable visor—windshield type spotlight and a wind field wiper are some of the valuable features in equipment that make the Jay-Eye-See the car complete.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

A Moment of Envy

No doubt he meant it kindly.
The man so far away.
Who sent a pretty postcard
With a sunny scene so gay,
Where the palms are lightly waving
By the waters warm and blue.
He sent the little picture
As a sign of friendship true.

While you're looking through the window
Where the snow obscures the map,
It is nice to be remembered
By some far more lucky chap.
You are glad that he addressed it;
Glad that he did not forget.
You appreciate it truly—
But that picture makes you fret.

A talkative person is a great self-entertainer.

The man that never does wrong, never does very much.

Incidentally I might remark: "Swat the flies."

The fellow who never has occasion is one kind of a hustler

There are sermons in stone; yes, and there is ice cream in bricks.

Norway must be a fine country. They compel a girl to learn to cook before she is allowed to marry.

Some men are honest because they are poor, and more poor because they are honest.

It costs as much to move this spring as to pay a year's rent—almost.

The queen of the May didn't have to wear galoshes this year, anyway.

Any man smart enough to make a living in politics is smart enough to get rich by being honest. if he wants to change.

He was strange to telephone usage, and when he called up for his wife the operator asked "What number?" to which he replied: "Oh. she is my second one."

Here is the way they advertise for husbands out in Blue Island: "WANTED—Gentleman who can furnish half dozen eggs to my one-half pound of ham. Object, matrimony."

That extra daylight hour comes in nice in the evenings, but it is a bit tough to take it off of one's beauty sleep in the morning.

Casey remarks: "Yis, it do mek a grate diffurince about usin glasses, whether they do be used over or under the nose."

When there is anything disagreeable to be done, most people stay away to avoid the rush.

I heard one Englewood merchant complain that he sold too much of his bargain goods and couldn't afford it. Yet he is doubtful if advertising pays.

Northwestern university is getting real strict and will slap some of their boys' wrists real hard if they don't quit killing one or two a year while hazing.

When Casey was asked what profession or trade he proposed to have his bright little son follow, answered: "Will, Oi dunno exactly, he's so fond iv animals, Oi thot Oi wud hev to make a bootcher iv him."

It looks as if everyone who voted for Mayor Dever expected to be appointed to some high-salaried office, and the doughty little independent has shattered their hopes by announcing that civil service is to rule absolutely.

"Sullivan, where do you get all the funny things you put in this column?" Keep it quiet, but the fact is, we just keep account of all the chaps who tell us how to run a newspaper right. and they are funny enough to go to any "colyum."

A newspaper man was having his salary check cashed Saturday, and as the teller handed out a few slightly soiled bills, he remarked: "Are you afraid of germs?" and the slave of the pen answered: "Not a bit, no germ could live very long on my salary."

At a semi-public meeting held one evening this week, several men started to smoke in the rear of the room when a gallant gentleman made the public request that there be no smoking out of respect to the ladies when a young woman near me snapped shut her cigarette case with "Oh, shucks!" We sure are progressing.

Dinner was a little late at an Englewood home. A guest asked the hostess to play something. Seating herself at the piano the good woman executed a Chopin nocturne with precision. She finished, and there was still an interval of waiting to be bridged. In the silence she turned to an old gentleman on her right and said: "Would you like a sonata before dinner?" He gave a start of surprise and pleasure. "Why, yes, thanks!" he said. "I had a couple on my way here, but I think I could stand another."

Kiwanians Seeking Spooks

The mother's and daughter's day of Englewood Kiwanian's was one of the best this excellent club has enjoyed and more than one hundred enjoyed the excellent luncheon the ladies of Pilgrim Congregational church provided. President Rathje introduced the chairman of the day, Mr. Joseph A. Graber, who presided with his usual grace. A special program of excellent music was rendered by the Sansones, Mr. Hugo as cellist. Mrs. Marian as violinist, and an accompanist. This trio are noted for their classic music and the program was all too short for their enraptured listeners. It was a very happy occasion and a pretty feature was a reading by Edith Rathje, and the tiny little beauty acquitted herself nicely, and we hope will soon come again.

The ladies award went to Mrs. Roscoe Stern and the gentlemen's to Mr. W. H. McDonald, while Wendell Williams was awarded the honor of providing for next week's attendance award.

The speaker of the day was Mr. Arthur Delroy of New York City, a reformed (?) newspaper man, who makes an amusing and highly interesting expose of false magic, palmistry and kindred fakes in a very witty and happy manner. His efforts at palmistry assured the oldest member of the club, he would live until 82, and straightway Will Cunningham and Walter Morris struck the member off of their eligible list. The ladies came in for many happy promises of beauty, wealth and most of them having handsome husbands, had little to wish in that field. President Rathje appointed Will Tegtmeier and Ed. Rothe, as Englewood representatives to Kiwanian activities for the next four weeks.

T. R. O'Neill's Weather Prophecies

Our good friend "Tom" O'Neill is again prophesying the weather, and says that the month of May will be both dry and cold. At least we will not have enough rain, and the temperature will be much lower than we should expect in the month of May. For many years Mr. O'Neill has been our authority on weather conditions. and we have never known him to fail in his prophesies.

SCOUTING

The National Travel and Out Door exposition to be held at the Coliseum, May 7th, to 12th, should prove a real attraction to every scout in the city. There will be a scout booth in the main building, where scout games, stunts, programs, etc., will be run every day. It will be set up as an over-night camp, with lean-tos, camp fires and all the things that go to make up a real scout camp. Demonstrations in camp cooking will be given. The Southwest district has been given the last day for their particular program.

New Troops

Troops 635 and 636, both organized at the Morgan Park Military academy, were officially sworn in last Friday night. Scout Executive Stephenson gave a very real and interesting talk to the cadets.

Judge Barasa Talks to Business Men

The Englewood Businessmen's association enjoyed a visit from Judge B. P. Barasa of the Englewood court, at the luncheon of April 26th. The judge is one of those good natured "everyday" talkers, and gave the members some insight into the so-called Tenant's court, over which he presided four years. He invites the people of Englewood to visit the court, even if not at the solicitation of the police, and asks to be informed of any abuses that he can rectify. The judge made a good impression on the men.
